

We Will Serve the Lord

Priscilla and Aquila
Acts 18:1-4; Romans 16:3-5a

Granny B walked toward the stream carrying her Bible and a big quilt. She planned on having a relaxing day, lying by the stream and reading about Jesus. She also carried a basket with a few special treats in case any of her friends joined her. When she reached the stream, she spread out the quilt. Just as she sat down and opened her Bible, she heard some familiar voices.

"Granny B!" Lello called out to her.

"Hello, my little ones," Granny B replied, as she waved to Delbert and Lello.

Lello and Delbert came running when they saw her. They flopped down next to Granny B and cuddled up to her.

"What are you doing here?" Delbert asked.

"I came down to the stream to read my Bible and relax," Granny B replied.

"Haw! That sounds great. I love to hear about God. Can you tell us a story?" Delbert asked excitedly.

"I'd love to," Granny B replied, as she opened her Bible. "I think you two will like this story."

"Who is the story about?" Lello asked.

"Priscilla and Aquila," Granny B replied. "They worked together with Paul making tents."

Lello smiled, "Like Delbert and I worked together to make my Easter craft."

Granny B smiled and added, "Priscilla and Aquila also traveled with Paul."

"Haw! Lello and I like to travel, too!" Delbert exclaimed.

"Priscilla, Aquila, and Paul served the Lord together. They did that by telling others about Jesus.

"Just like Delbert and I like to tell others about Jesus," Lello added, smiling at her friend.

Granny B smiled. "That's right. Serving the Lord is doing something for Him. You and Delbert like to serve the Lord in the same way Priscilla, Aquila, and Paul did."

"Thanks for teaching us about them," Lello and Delbert said together.

"Sure! Now, would you two care for a treat? I brought some strawberries with me," Granny B offered, opening her basket to show them.

"Haw! We love strawberries! Thank you!" answered Delbert.

Granny B, Delbert, and Lello ate strawberries and talked about the Bible. After a while, Granny B could tell Delbert and Lello were getting restless.

"Thank you for relaxing with me," Granny B began. "I can tell you two are ready to run around."

"Haw! We are. Oh! Lello, we didn't tell the baby ducks about Jesus!" Delbert remembered.

"You're right. Let's go tell them now. We can be just like Priscilla, Aquila, and Paul. We will serve the Lord together!" Lello said.

They thanked Granny B for the strawberries and stories and she hugged them goodbye. After they left, Granny B leaned back, opened her Bible again, and began to read. She remained there until well after lunch, thankful for the time to relax.
